Community Climate Action with Ennovationz
now available in the San Francisco Bay Area

We Help You Plan Your Program to Meet your Community's Needs

Ennovationz partners with your city or county to help you define your goals and describe your programs and incentives. For a nominal fee, we create and manage a group webpage for your residents, including your community goals and related news and events.

We Implement the Program for Your City or County

We are committed to helping residents in your community to take action, through a customized group website. With free online resources and phone-based energy consultations, plus referrals to local incentive and vendors, we help your community to bridge the gap between interest and action.

Ennovationz recommends that your city or county promote the program to maximize the energy and water savings. Your city or county staff can help promote the program through your website, newsletters, email or other outreach channels.

We Track Your Community's Energy, Water and Greenhouse Gas Reduction Data

Our online tools can track the performance of your community's program and give you critical feedback on progress toward your goals. You can log onto your group webpage and see up-to-date feedback on community actions, greenhouse gas emissions, electricity, and natural gas savings, and number of residents participating in the program. Online tracking for water savings coming soon to selected cities. These metrics are a benefit for you and for the community, so they are visible to all. If you prefer to keep some tracked items private, Ennovationz can customize the web display for additional fees.

The Ennovationz program provides your residents free resources to increase home energy and water efficiency, reduce costs, and reduce greenhouse gas emissions. For very little cost and staff time, you can achieve significant sustainability goals.
